TERMS OF BUSINESS

FAMILY DEPARTMENT

Certificated Matters

We are advising you with the benefit of a Legal Aid Agency legal aid certificate. There are important conditions attached to receiving legal assistance from this scheme which we set out below.

Our Responsibilities to you

Our responsibilities to you are:-

1. To put your interests first;
2. Treat you politely and considerately;
3. Give you accurate information;
4. Express ourselves clearly and with minimum jargon;
5. Explain at the outset what your legal costs are likely to be and notify you of any change during the transaction;
6. Update you on progress as the matter proceeds;
7. Respond within a set time to your letters, emails and telephone calls;
8. Treat you fairly at all times and not to discriminate for reasons of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation.
9. Keep your personal information confidential and refuse to act for another person if doing so could compromise this.

Legal aid certificate

This is, in most cases, a means-tested scheme and a merits-tested scheme.

- (i) types of certificate
  - (a) family matters, except care proceedings

In family matters, you may qualify for a full legal aid certificate, which allows us to advise you, write and receive letters on your behalf, prepare documents, issue applications, and represent you in Court. Provided your income and capital are within the limits and your case merits it, you will be granted a legal aid certificate by the Legal Aid Agency to cover our costs of assisting you.

Once we have completed the Legal Aid Agency application forms with you, we shall send them to the Legal Aid Agency. The Legal Aid Agency may take some weeks to process the form and we shall contact you as soon as we receive a response from them.

- (b) care proceedings

If you are the parent of a child who is the subject of care proceedings brought by the local authority, you will be entitled to a full legal aid certificate which allows us to advise you, write and receive letters on your behalf, prepare documents, issue applications, and represent you in Court. This will cover our costs of assisting you. There is no test of your income or capital for the certificate to be awarded.

(ii) emergency certificate

If you applied for emergency legal aid and were granted an emergency certificate to cover urgent work, the Legal Aid Agency will still need to complete the means test, if yours is a means and merit-tested matter, before granting a full legal aid certificate. It is important that you co-operate with any requests for information made by the Legal Aid Agency as they complete the means test. You need to be aware that if you were granted an emergency certificate and then the Legal Aid Agency decide that you do not qualify for a full certificate, then you may be liable to repay all of our costs incurred under the emergency certificate.

(iii) full certificate and your obligations

You may be offered a legal aid certificate provided you pay a monthly contribution towards the legal costs.

Once you have been granted a legal aid certificate, you have a duty to disclose to the Legal Aid Agency any change in your circumstances, including a change of address or financial means. If your household financial means increase while you have a legal aid certificate, this may affect the amount you pay by contribution towards the past and future costs of your case.

Your legal aid certificate may be revoked if, for example after the assessment has been made, it is found that you never qualified for legal aid or if you fail to provide the Legal Aid Agency with information it has asked for. If your Certificate is revoked, you will be liable for all of the legal charges incurred up to and from the date of revocation.

Your legal aid certificate may be discharged if, for example, you are no longer financially eligible or it appears that your case is no longer likely to succeed. If your Certificate is discharged you will not have to pay the legal costs up to the date of discharge but you will be responsible for any legal costs that arise thereafter.

Your costs and the Statutory Charge

The Statutory Charge applies to legal aid certificate cases. We will have explained the Statutory Charge to you in our initial meeting. However, as it is so important, we repeat the details in writing, and we urge you to read this section carefully.

If, at the end of your case, you recover or preserve money or property and

- Either (I) you have had the benefit of a legal aid certificate
Or (ii) you have had the benefit of a legal aid certificate and Legal Help and Family Help (Lower) in a family matter in doing so, that money or property must first be applied to pay your legal costs. This is the Statutory Charge.

The Statutory Charge can be applied by

1. Deducting your legal costs from money recovered for you, and paying you the difference.
2. Charging the costs against a home that you obtain or keep an interest in. In effect, the Legal Aid Agency have a charge on your home, although the Legal Aid Agency would not normally expect to have this money repaid until the property were sold.
3. Charging the costs against any other property or capital asset you recover. In this case, the Legal Aid Agency may insist the property is sold or the capital realised to meet the costs.

If the Legal Aid Agency retain a charge on property you recover and it is not sold immediately, then it will seek interest on the sums outstanding. The interest rate is 8%.

If you win your case, and your opponent meets your legal costs in full, then you will keep whatever money or property we have recovered or preserved for you. You will also be refunded any contribution you have paid to the Legal Aid Agency.

If you win your case, but your opponent does not meet your legal costs in full, then the unpaid part of your costs will be deducted from the money or property recovered or preserved for you.

If you lose your case, and you have been making a contribution to the Legal Aid Agency, then you will not get a refund of this contribution, but the Legal Aid Agency will meet the rest of your costs. If you lose and you are ordered by the Court to pay all or part of your opponent's costs, it is likely that this will be by continuing your contributions, directly to your opponent.

If you lose your case and you have been making no contributions towards your costs, then the Legal Aid Agency will meet all of your costs. You should realise that the Court may order you to pay some or all of your opponent's costs, although this is rarely ordered for legally aided parties with no contribution.

If your Opponent is legally aided

If your opponent is receiving help with his/her costs from the Legal Aid Agency and you think that to do so is a poor use of legal aid, then you are entitled to write to the Legal Aid Agency to express your views. You will need to give your name, your opponent's name, the nature of the matter in dispute, and write to the area office which issued the public funding certificate to your opponent. If you do not know this, then you can write to your local Legal Aid Agency office and ask that the letter be passed on. The Legal Aid Agency office for Cirencester is at 33 –35 Queen’s Square, Bristol.

Storage of papers and documents

We will keep our file of papers (except for any of your papers which you ask to be returned to you) for no more than 15 years for general family files and files relating to children matters are retained until the youngest child attains the age of 21 years and on the understanding that we have your authority to destroy the file 15 years after sending you our final bill or after the youngest child has attained the age of 21. We shall not destroy documents you ask us to deposit in safe custody. We do not normally make a charge for retrieving stored papers or deeds in response to continuing or new instructions to act for you. However, we reserve the right to make a charge based on the time we spend reading papers, writing letters or other work necessary to comply with your instructions. Normally the charge will be £50.00 plus VAT.

Interest

If we have occasion to receive money on your behalf we will normally place it on deposit if it is not to be used within a week or in accordance with the current Account Rules requirements. Please note that deposit interest which amounts to £20 or less will not be payable unless the money held for you is paid into a separate designated account in which case all interest will be paid to you.

Payments to You

Where we return balances held on Client Account to you once your matter has been concluded this will normally be done by CHAPS transfer into your bank account or by cheque. If a CHAPS transfer is made we make a charge of £25 plus VAT to cover bank charges and administration. If a cheque is issued, we expect this to be presented as soon as possible and in any case within 6 months. If it is not even after one or more reminders, we reserve the right to make an administration charge and/or to give any balance of £20 or less to charity.

Identification and Personal Information

Under the Money Laundering Regulations 2017 we are not permitted to carry out work for you until we have sight of valid identification documents, one showing proof of identity, such as a current driving licence or passport, and one showing proof of address, such as a recent (within the last 3 months) utility bill or bank statement. You may also be asked for confirmation of other matters, e.g. the source of funding for matters you instruct us on. Please note that this firm and the individuals in it do not accept liability in contract negligence or otherwise arising out of our compliance with any statutory or regulatory requirement. Please note that we will be unable to do any substantive work for you, and we will stop any work already started, until we have received your proof of identity and proof of address.

We will ask you to confirm, in acceptance of Terms of Business, whether you are a Politically exposed person (which will necessitate added ID checks) or a person of relatively high net worth.

Data Protection – GDPR

We only process personal data in accordance with the law. Our full privacy statement is on our website at <http://www.alisonfielden.co.uk/privacy.php>. Printed copies are also available in our office.

Confidentiality/Disclosure Issues

Solicitors are under a professional and legal obligation to keep the affairs of the Client confidential. This obligation, however, is subject to a statutory exception; legislation on money laundering and terrorist financing has placed solicitors under a legal duty in certain circumstances to disclose information to the National Crime Agency. Where a solicitor knows or suspects that a transaction on behalf of a Client involves money laundering, the solicitor may be required to make a disclosure. If, while we are acting for you, it becomes necessary to make such a disclosure, we may not be able to inform you that it has been made, or of the reasons for it, because the law prohibits ‘tipping off’. Where the law permits us, we will tell you about any potential money laundering problem and explain what action we may need to take.

Our firm may be subject to audit or quality checks by external firms or organizations. We may also outsource work. This might be for example typing or photocopying or costings, or research and preparation to assist with your matter. Information from your file may therefore be made available in such circumstances. We will always aim to obtain a confidentiality agreement with the third party.

In order to comply with court and tribunal rules, all documentation relevant to any issues in litigation, however potentially damaging to your case, have to be preserved and may be required to be made available to the other side. This aspect of proceedings is known as ‘disclosure’. Subject to this, we will not reveal confidential information about your case except as provided by these terms of business and where, for example, your opponent is ordered to pay your costs, we have to meet obligations to reveal details of the case to them and to the court.

Cyber Fraud

During your matter it is possible that you will have occasion to transfer sums of money to us. To be as safe as possible from cyber fraud, please check with us by telephone or on a personal visit to our offices, that you have our correct bank details before transferring funds.

Please also note that we do not send bank details by email. If you receive bank details by email purporting to come from us this is likely not to be genuine and it is imperative that you check details with us by telephone, personal attendance at the office letter or fax or refer to this letter, before sending funds to us.

Proceeds of Crime

We are not permitted or prepared to accept monies which are (or are mixed with) proceeds of crime or connected with terrorist activities or fraudulent activities of any kind.

If you are unable to confirm that monies paid to this firm are not in any of the above categories, we cannot accept such funds.

Financial Services and Insurance Contracts

If, while we are acting for you, you need advice on investments, we may have to refer you to someone who is authorized by the Financial Conduct Authority, as we are not. However, as we are regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority, we may be able to provide certain limited investment services where these are closely linked to the legal work we are doing to you.

We are not authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority. However, we are included on the register maintained by the Financial Conduct Authority so that we can carry on insurance mediation activity, which is broadly the advising on, selling and administration of insurance contracts. Insurance mediation activities and investment services, including arrangements for complaints or redress if something goes wrong, are regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority. The register can be accessed via the Financial Conduct Authority website at www.fca.org.uk/register.

Tax Advice

Any work that we do for you may involve tax implications or necessitate the consideration of tax planning strategies. We may not be qualified to advise you on the tax implications of a transaction that you instruct us to carry out, or the likelihood of them arising. If you have any concerns in this respect, please raise them with us immediately. If we can undertake the research necessary to resolve the issue, we will do so and advise you accordingly. If we cannot, we may be able to identify a source of assistance for you.

There are some aspects of a transaction which according to the latest money laundering expectations may be deemed to be tax advice. This may include (among others) advice on stamp duty land tax for conveyancing transactions or to a limited extent the possibility of capital gains tax on matters generally. In that respect only we will be deemed to offer tax advice, but in all other respects we do not offer tax advice.

Complaints Policy

We aim to offer all our clients an efficient and effective service and I hope we will do so in your case. If, however, you should ever have any cause for concern please feel free to contact us to discuss this. If there are matters which we cannot resolve between ourselves then you should please contact my colleague, Alison Fielden, in accordance with our complaints policy, a full copy of which is available on request.

Please note that:-

- (h) We will not charge you for the cost of handling a complaint.
- (i) The period of normally 8 weeks and usually six months referred to above are subject to exceptions, and not all clients are eligible. Further details can be found in the firm's complaint procedure and at enquiries@legalombudsman.org.uk - www.legalombudsman.org.uk .
- (j) Alternative complaints bodies, such as Ombudsman Services (independentreviewer@ombudsmanservices.org), exist which are competent to deal with complaints about legal services, should both you and our firm wish to use such a scheme. We do not agree to use such a scheme.

If you or we decide that we shall stop acting for you, then our charges will be as stated above.
